A Handsome Edition.

The Maysville Bulletin published a handsome edition of ten pages Wednesday afternoon in honor of the Home-Coming in that city. We do not know who compose the mechanical force on this paper at this time, but we could easily read the imprint of John Aultmeyer throughout the paper. In our early days in the newspaper business, John was a "peach" at the case, especially on ads., and although he is now the editor, the Bulletin still shows he has not lost his cunning in that part of the business.

GOVERNOR PATTISON

Laid to Rest in Family Vault in Greenlawn Cemetery.

Governor Pattison, of Ohio, was laid to rest yesterday at noon in the family vault in Greenlawn cemetery. The services were simple but impressive and feeling. The interment was private. Rev. Marion Lesourd, pastor of Milford M. E. Church, was in charge and opened the services by reading the Scripture, following with a short address. Richard H. Rust, of Xenia, offered a prayer. Mrs. Corinne Moore Lawson sang a solo "O Come Unto Me," Judge Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati, Attorney General under President Cleveland, a life-long friend spoke on the political life of Governor Pattison. Bishop Henry Spellmeyer, of Cincinnati, delivered the funeral sermon which was brief. Mrs. Corinne Moore Lawson sang Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar." The benediction was by Rev. M. Lesourd, First Regiment of Cincinnati, headed by a band, led the procession in command of Colonel Hake.

We ask the indulgence of our friends and customers during the remodeling of our store room. No Interruption of business.

Sweeping Reduction in Freight Rates Ordered.

Sweeping reduction in freight rates charged by the six larger railroads now doing business in Kentucky was ordered Wednesday by the State Railroad Commission in an extensive opinion handed down at Frankfort. The opinion sustains the charge that the present rates are unjust, unfair and discriminate against certain portions of the State. A scale is fixed, gauged on the rates charged by the C. N. O. and T. P. railroad, and all other roads must conform to this. The railroads indicated that they may accept the reduction without a fight in the courts.

THE BOURBON JURY

Gave James Garfield Smith a Life Sentence in Fayette Circuit Court.

The Bourbon county jury which tried James Garfield Smith, one of the negroes accused of the murder of Wm. Moore in a Lexington saloon last November brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment for life in the penitentiary.

The Bourbon men on the jury were: Kelley Moore, C. H. Lowe, F. P. Kiser, James Ford, J. W. Claypoole, George Rassenfoss, A. J. Fee, Cliff Blackerby, T. H. Tarr, Walter Kenney and Ed Rice, the one Fayette man being A. H. Meyer.

It was discovered at the opening of court Tuesday that J. H. Ewalt, G. F. Butler, D. T. Wilson, R. B. Hutchcraft, S. R. Burnham and E. B. Hutchcraft, six of the special panel of jurymen summoned from Bourbon county were absent. Judge Watts Parker ordered the clerk to issue an attachment for them to appear before the court on June 25 to show cause why they were not in contempt of court. Their bond was fixed at $100.
